REV. ALFRED ALLEN.

Alfred Allen was born February 8, 1819, in Brandywine, Pa., and departed this life in Williamston, Mich., January 29, 1903. He was the oldest of eleven children of Dr. Samuel O. Allen and Julia Ann Becking. In 1831 his parents moved to Michigan and settled in Macomb County. His father was a physician, and removed to Clarkston. They were earnest Methodists. Alfred was in early life religiously inclined, and he made a public confession of his faith in 1842. He was licensed as a local preacher, and in 1843 was received on trial in the Michigan Annual Conference. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Edmund S. Janes in Detroit, September 14, 1845, and elder at Kalamazoo, September 10, 1848. His educational advantages were the best that Michigan then afforded. In young manhood he taught district schools. In 1852, his health being frail, he located in Ann Arbor, and attended medical lectures, and practiced medicine five years. His health having improved, he resumed pastoral work. His appointments were as follows: Flint, White Lake, Flat River, Shiawassee, Ingham, Manchester, Bryron. His appointments in the Detroit Conference, beginning with 1857, were Lapeer, Grand Blanc, Birmingham, Lexington, Mount Clemens, Oxford, Dryden, Flat Rock, Northville, Laingsburg, Dearborn, Leesville, New Haven, Williamston, Oak Grove, Mungersville. At the Conference of 1877 he took a superannuated relation, and settled in Williamsport, engaging in the hardware business. Subsequently he sold his business, and lived quietly in his beautiful home on High Street. He married Miss Louisa J. Hartwell, of Hartwellville, Mich., in 1849, who shared with him the joys and sorrows of the itinerancy, and who has been a constant helper and companion through life. One daughter was given them, Mrs. George S. Pennock, of Williamston.

Brother Allen was of a warm, sympathetic nature. He wished everybody well, and tried to do all the good he could to everybody. The influence of his life has been helpful and decidedly Christian. No unkind words were spoken of him. He was like his Master, a man of peace. He grew sweet in his age. He loved the Church, and only by reason of age and infirmity was he absent from its services. He longed to go and be at rest. He wanted to see Jesus. His relations with his pastors were most cordial. He would "drop in" and inquire about our welfare, and chat a little while. We shall miss him, but we shall see him again in that land where they never grow old.

Funeral services were held in the church at Williamston, conducted by the pastor, assisted by the Rev. N. N. Clark, of Deerfield, Mich.; Rev. Mr. Knowles, of the Congregational Church; and Rev. Mr. Killion, of the Baptist Church. Brother Clark preached from Job xix, 25-27.

REV. CHARLES MILLER ANDERSON.

Rapidly the ranks of the veteran ministers of our Church in this State are being decimated. The list of superannuates has been very long, but the months are seeing their names transferred from the registers of men to the immortal pages of the Book of God.

REV. CHARLES MILLER ANDERSON.

Brother Anderson died at the home of his son-inlaw, W. H. Johnson, at Lapeer, on Thursday morning, June 11, 1903, and was buried at Hadley on the following Saturday, after funeral services in our church at Lapeer, in charge of the pastor, Rev. E. D. REV. CHARLES MILLER ANDERSON.

Rapidly the ranks of the veteran ministers of our Church in this State are being decimated. The list of superannuates has been very long, but the months are seeing their names transferred from the registers of men to the immortal pages of the Book of God.

REV. CHARLES MILLER ANDERSON.

Brother Anderson died at the home of his son-in-law, W. H. Johnson, at Lapeer, on Thursday morning, June 11, 1903, and was buried at Hadley on the following Saturday, after funeral services in our church at Lapeer, in charge of the pastor, Rev. E. D. Diamond. He had passed through eighty-two full years of life, and was approaching the eighty-third anniversary of the starting-time. July 29, 1820, at New Paltz, Ulster County, N. Y., were the time and place of his birth. The family included ten children, and was left fatherless when Charles was a lad of five. The children learned to work quite young, and the only school advantages were limited to earlier years and to the rudimentary branches. About his seventh year he lived in the home of a Scotch Presbyterian family, and from that time to his conversion, ten years later, he had a growing sense of his sinfulness. Of his labors and homes during these years we have no record. In 1837 he was converted at the family altar of a godly woman, Mrs. Merrill, at Lee, Mass. This lady was the agent of his salvation. He at once joined the Church, and was fervent in his prayers and exhortations at the social services of the Church. This led his brethren to suggest to him that he ought to enter the ministry, and their words confirmed him in the conviction that had been growing in his own mind, and in 1851 he was received on trial in the Troy Conference, serving the charges of Knox, Seward, Minaville, Rockwood, and Northville. He then located and came West, stopping in Michigan, and at once presented his certificate of location to the Detroit Conference, and was received into its membership. The Minutes show no record of this action, but do show his name in the list of appointments. He himself has recorded that the very first vote taken in this Conference at its first session was on his admission.

In this Conference his charges have been Bridgeway, Hudson, Manchester, Unadilla, Chelsea, South Lyon, Fowlerville, Belleville, Franklin, Presiding Elder Lake Superior District, Algonac, Memphis, Gadley, Washington, Dryden, Attica, Armada and Mount Vernon, Goodrich, Hartland, and Commerce. In 1884 he requested to be released from effective relationship, and be granted a place on the retired list, and his wish was respected. He lived at Hadley for the two succeeding years, and then moved to Metamora, working some time at his early trade as a blacksmith.

Brother Anderson was married in 1842, and lost his wife some five years later. He married the second time, and Miss Sarah Phillips became the partner of his labors during all the years of his itinerancy. Mrs. Anderson died in January, 1894, and, following that, Brother Anderson made his home with his only daughter, Mrs. W. H. Johnson, of Lapeer. He was later married, a third time, to Mrs. Mary A. Chambers, and made his home again in Metamora for some six years, where he was again left a widower, and returned to the home of his daughter. His later years were very rich and mellow, his faith in holy verities and his love for God, and all things pertaining to the spiritual life, growing more tender and ardent. Until three months ago he was very regular in his attendance at church, and was a helpful listener and devout worshiper. The development of his disease, which was dropsy, prevented his leaving his home after that time.

REV. ALBERT BARZILLAI CLOUGH.

Albert Barzillai Clough was born in Ypsilanti, December 2, 1836, and died at Chesaning, April 24, 1903. Brother Clough was of good Christian parentage, his father being a Presbyterian and a preacher, and his mother a "Methodist of the Methodists." As early as his sixth year a very clear and distinct sense of his obligation to love and serve God was felt by him, and he entered upon a determined course of obedience. His mother was very faithful to him, and often took him apart and prayed with him.

When he was four years old, his parents moved into the town of Alaiedon, Ingham County, and there, at a revival-meeting, held by Rev. E. B. Haskell, in January, 1854, after a very severe spiritual struggle, he entered into a happy experience of rest and trust in God, and a year later he was blessed with a sense of deliverance from sin and a fullness of love.

During a part of the Civil War he served as a chaplain in the army.

His early education had been limited to the district school; but he was studious, and improved his time, and in 1865 he joined the Detroit Conference on probation, at Flint, coming into full membership two years later.

He was appointed junior preacher with Rev. J. W. Holt on the Hartland Circuit, which had eighteen appointments, and where he received $300 for the year. Later appointments were Chesaning, Laingsburg, Unadilla, White Oak, Rochester, Woodside Avenue, West Bay City; St. Charles, Henderson, and Oakley.

In 1882 he became superannuated, in which relation he continued to his death, doing in the meantime considerable effective labor.

Brother Clough was married to Miss Mary A. Strickland, of Alaiedon Township, September 25, 1857. He was bereaved of her by death five years later, a little boy, Zina, surviving his mother. His second marriage occurred in September, 1867, to Miss Mary C. Chapman, of Chesaning, who became the mother of two daughters, Mary and Helen.

Brother Clough was a devoted man of God, fervent in spirit and zealous in labors. He did noble work, and brought many souls into the kingdom of God. He passed through great physical suffering, and was the sweeter and more spiritual-minded thereby. He was respected and loved by his brethren in the ministry, and adorned his calling with a spotless life and character.

REV. ALFONZO CRANE.

This valued and endeared brother in the ministry gave up his spirit in St. Luke's Hospital, Marquette, Saturday morning, May 16, 1903. He had been tenderly taken there, on Thursday, by his Presiding Elder for an operation and treatment. He had suffered three years from diabetes, from which he died, blood-poisoning having intervened. He was buried not far from his childhood home and birthplace, in Anderson, Livingston County, funeral services having been held at Newberry, on Monday, and at Anderson on Wednesday.

Brother Crane was a Michigan man from birth to death. He was born at Pittsfield, Washtenaw County, October 6, 1848. He was the eldest child of William W. Crane, and Rachel Stuck Crane, who lived by farming. The family soon after moved to Argentine, Genesee County, and in 1854 to Pine River Township, in Gratiot County, and in 1854 returned to Pittsfield to make no further changes. It was after this last move that Brother Crane, then twelve years old, first crossed the threshold of a public or district school. Up to that time his father had been his tutor, from necessity, no school being in his part of Gratiot County. This district school formed all the advantages he ever had of a specific nature for education. Besides that, he used books by himself, and took lessons in the great school of life. So well did he guide himself that he became a very close reasoner, and as readily followed a very careful and accurate speaker. He had a fondness for discrimination and shades of difference in facts and conceptions and words. While without the mental discipline and affluence promoted by the schools, he brought a trained and well-stored mind to his work. A traveling colporteur, lodging at his father's home and discoursing about religious interests, gave him his first conscious ideas of

REV. ALFONSO CRANE.

God when he was seven years old. The impression and conception were lasting, and never left him. At ten he joined a rural Sunday-school just organized in the neighborhood, and then learned the great religious truths that were at the base of his religious character and work. At nineteen he was led to a conscious and willing self-surrender to God, under the influence of a sermon by the late Rev. G. P. Tindall, a Presbyterian minister of Ypsilanti, and counted himself as greatly changed by the operation of the Divine Spirit.

In 1869 he went to Dexter, and there connected himself with the Congregational Church, because there was no Presbyterian society in the place. This Church soon after was dissolved, and he united with that at Webster, and when its pastor resigned, Brother Crane was asked to read sermons to the congregation, which he did, and while so doing received an impression that it was his duty to be a preacher of the gospel.

He was licensed by the Association in August, 1874, and began studying theology, and became dissatisfied with the doctrines of Calvinism, and transferred his Church membership to the Methodist Church, uniting as a local preacher on the Iosco Charge, in February, 1875. The next year he was employed by Presiding Elder Bartlett, and placed in charge of Hope Circuit, which embraced fourteen appointments in the Saginaw District. He joined the Conference on the following year, and was appointed to Hope, Waterloo, Henrietta, Addison, Henderson, Salem, Parshallville, Webberville, Ortonville, Commerce, Brighton, and Newberry. If Brother Crane's sermons, none of which we were ever privileged to hear, were like his Conference and district speeches, they were thoughtful, logical, forceful, and never devoid of interest and instruction, although pronounced with deliberation and without any attempt at oratory.

He was married, March 6, 1877, to Miss Eunice E. Sproat, of Pinckney. The children are Charles Herman, born July, 1878, now a teacher at Carlsand, Marquette County; Ella May, now Mrs. Cruffman, of the Soo; and George, a lad of fourteen. Mrs. Crane was with him during his severe illness, and bravely and devotedly nursed him. At his bedside during the night, and at his death, as also during the preceding day, were Presiding Elder Thompson and his wife, Rev. E. A. Elliott, and Rev. David Casler. These brethren prayed with him, and stood beside him with comfort and cheer. His son Herman had driven thirty miles during the night to see his father, and reached his bedside a few hours before his death.

Brother Crane was dearly loved by his brethren, not only for his sterling character, amiable nature, and pervasive good humor, but for that philosophical poise which lifted him above, and made him superior to, some of the common weaknesses of men. He despised sham and an overweening worldliness, and delighted in reality. With him, life was more than meat and honors and position. He could scorn some things that most men were eager to gain. Give him food and clothes, and he wanted scarce anything else but truth and work in the line of duty. With these and God he was content. His brethren loved him, too, because he was so true to his own individuality. He was not just like somebody else, and no one ought to be. He was true to himself, honored his own intellectual gifts, looked into his own heart, and, out of his own resources, spoke his own convictions and thoughts, and in this was perhaps the most dauntless man in the Conference. He was not fearless in the sense of being pugnacious. He never had strife, but he had more courage of his convictions than a dozen of some type of men who pose as being brave fighters. This courage, springing from his clear consciousness of integrity, showed itself in life's last hours. Brother Thompson, asking him if he was ready to go if called, received the unfaltering reply, "Perfectly." "Have you any fear for the future?" was asked, and the calm, brave answer was, "Not a particle." Perhaps the characteristic of Brother Crane above all others was his loyalty to his own personality. Few men will be more sincerely mourned. It will be a lifelong, pleasant memory to the members of the Conference that their testimonial presented to him last Conference, in testimony of his long and faithful service as Registrar, was not delayed. Rev. I. E. Springer put the Conference under an obligation of grati-his tutor, from necessity, no school being in his part of Gratiot County. This district school formed all the advantages he ever had of a specific nature for education. Besides that, he used books by himself, and took lessons in the great school of life. God when he was seven years old. The impression and conception were lasting, and never left him. At ten he joined a rural Sunday-school just organized in the neighborhood, and then learned the great religious truths that were at the base of his religious character and work. At nineteen he was led to a conscious and willing self-surrender to God, under the influence of a sermon by the late Rev. G. P. Tindall, a Presbyterian minister of Ypsilanti, and counted himself as greatly changed by the operation of the Divine Spirit.

In 1869 he went to Dexter, and there connected himself with the Congregational Church, because there was no Presbyterian society in the place. This Church soon after was dissolved, and he united with that at Webster, and when its pastor resigned, Brother Crane was asked to read sermons to the congregation, which he did, and while so doing received an impression that it was his duty to be a preacher of the gospel.

He was licensed by the Association in August, 1874, and began studying theology, and became dissatisfied with the doctrines of Calvinism, and transferred his Church membership to the Methodist Church, uniting as a local preacher on the Iosco Charge, in February, 1875. The next year he was employed by Presiding Elder Bartlett, and placed in charge of Hope Circuit, which embraced fourteen appointments in the Saginaw District. He joined the Conference on the following year, and was appointed to Hope, Waterloo, Henrietta, Addison, Henderson, Salem, Parshallville, Webberville, Ortonville, Commerce, Brighton, and Newberry. If Brother Crane's sermons, none of which we were ever privileged to hear, were like his Conference and district speeches, they were thoughtful, logical, forceful, and never devoid of interest and instruction, although pronounced with deliberation and without any attempt at oratory.

He was married, March 6, 1877, to Miss Eunice E. Sproat, of Pinckney. The children are Charles Herman, born July, 1878, now a teacher at Carlsand, Marquette County; Ella May, now Mrs. Cruffman, of the Soo; and George, a lad of fourteen. Mrs. Crane was with him during his severe illness, and bravely and devotedly nursed him. At his bedside during the night, and at his death, as also during the preceding day, were Presiding Elder Thompson and his wife, Rev. E. A. Elliott, and Rev. David Casler. These brethren prayed with him, and stood beside him with comfort and cheer. His son Herman had driven thirty miles during the night to see his father, and reached his bedside a few hours before his death.

Brother Crane was dearly loved by his brethren, not only for his sterling character, amiable nature, and pervasive good humor, but for that philosophical poise which lifted him above, and made him superior to, some of the common weaknesses of men. He despised sham and an overweening worldliness, and delighted in reality. With him, life was more than meat and honors and position. He could scorn some things that most men were eager to gain. Give him food and clothes, and he wanted scarce anything else but truth and work in the line of duty. With these and God he was content. His brethren loved him, too, because he was so true to his own individuality. He was not just like somebody else, and no one ought to be. He was true to himself, honored his own intellectual gifts, looked into his own heart, and, out of his own resources, spoke his own convictions and thoughts, and in this was perhaps the most dauntless man in the Conference. He was not fearless in the sense of being pugnacious. He never had strife, but he had more courage of his convictions than a dozen of some type of men who pose as being brave fighters. This courage, springing from his clear consciousness of integrity, showed itself in life's last hours. Brother Thompson, asking him if he was ready to go if called, received the unfaltering reply, "Perfectly." "Have you any fear for the future?" was asked, and the calm, brave answer was, "Not a particle." Perhaps the characteristic of Brother Crane above all others was his loyalty to his own personality. Few men will be more sincerely mourned. It will be a lifelong, pleasant memory to the members of the Conference that their testimonial presented to him last Conference, in testimony of his long and faithful service as Registrar, was not delayed. Rev. I. E. Springer put the Conference under an obligation of gratitude for suggesting and supervising the work of preparing this testimonial last fall. It was one of the most graceful episodes of the session of 1902.

Funeral services for Brother Crane were held at his widow's girlhood home, three and one-half miles from Pinckney, near Anderson, Wednesday, May 20th, conducted by Rev. H. W. Hicks, assisted by Brothers George Stowe, J. H. McIntosh, D. J. Odell, Horace Palmer, J. H. McCune, and Charles E. Stedman, who acted as pall-bearers. Rev. P. P. Farnham, who was Baptist pastor at Brighton when Brother Crane was stationed there, paid a fine tribute to Brother Crane as a gospel minister and a brother pastor, as did also Rev. K. H. Crane, who was pastor of the Congregational Church at Addison when Brother Crane was stationed there. Friends were present from Pittsfield, Dexter, and Waterloo. His aged mother, living near Pittsfield, was too infirm to be present, but his only surviving brother and two sisters were present, and a large number of Sister Crane's near relatives and old neighbors. Brother Hicks writes: "We tenderly laid his remains to rest in the Sprout Cemetery, and confidently expect to meet him when the roll is called up yonder."

REV. MANASSEH HICKEY.

Manasseh Hickey was born September 7, 1820, in Phelps, N. Y., and died in Detroit, Mich., January 2, 1903. He had an early and careful religious training, both parents being devoted Christians, who faithfully maintained the family altar and a pious example.

In 1836 his father moved with his family to Michigan, settling in Troy, where, along with farming, he carried on the business of threshing, owning four machines. While helping his father to earn a livelihood, a gracious revival occurred, in which Manasseh, now eighteen years old, experienced a complete change of heart. It was not long before he began to feel that he ought to prepare himself for the ministry. He continued to work hard, managed to save $100 with his threshing machine, and then attended a select school for six months.

About this time Albion College was in its embryo state—a Methodist seminary—and by the advice of Rev. Edward Thomson, afterwards Bishop, whom he came to Detroit to consult, he resolved to go to Albion. On his way, he walked the last twenty miles, the Michigan Central Railroad being completed only to Jackson. While a Student at Albion he was determined to work his way through by any honorable means. He once said: "I rang the bell, worked in gardens, on the roads, scored timber, and, after three years, left college with five dollars in my pocket."

On leaving Albion, he joined the Michigan Conference on trial in the fall of 1844, and was sent to Burlington Circuit, which then included parts of four counties. He served two years, and was next appointed missionary on the Nottawa Indian Mission. After five years of missionary life and hardship, in which he seemed ever happy and joyous, and to which he was so fond of referring for illustration and incident in all his subsequent career, he was next appointed to Ann Arbor Circuit, which he served during 1851-2. In the fall of the latter year he was stationed at Lafayette Street Church, Detroit, where he remained two years. The old Conference Minutes show that he was allowed a salary that year of $200 and $200 for "table expenses," and a parsonage. The old Congress Street Church, at the corner of Randolph, was his next appointment, and after two successful years, he was placed in charge of the city mission. The following year he was made Presiding Elder of Port Huron District; but near the end of the third year found his health giving way through exposure on the lake shore, there being no railroads yet in that region. The next year he was assigned to Chelsea, and, though a much more congenial clime and work, he was obliged to spend several months in the South for his health. The following year he was appointed Presiding Elder of Detroit District, which office he filled four years. Ypsilanti was his next charge for two years, and then Saline for one year. In 1867 he was again returned to Detroit, where he took charge of Walnut Street Mission, the beginning of Simpson Church. He also had the care of a chapel building enterprise on Jefferson Avenue, which afterwards became the Mary Palmer Memorial Church.

His next appointment was Presiding Elder of Flint District, which he served three and a half years, when a sad accident ended his career as an "effective" minister. While going to one of his quarterly meetings, he was thrown from a carriage to the frozen ground, and carried to a house, where he remained forty-eight hours unconscious from contusion of the brain. He did not recover for six months, and it is doubtful if he ever fully recovered from the shock.

At the succeeding Conference, in 1872, he took a superannuated relation, and though thirty years have since elapsed, his place among men has not been that of a lone cipher. Though his broken health and advanced age prevented him from taking regular pastoral work, he delivered numerous sermons and addresses, officiated at funerals and baptisms, and was present and active in social meetings of the Church. He always loved to affiliate with his ministerial brethren, attended their Monday meetings, and with zest and earnestness took part in their discussions. He was interested in every good cause. The community, the State, the Nation, hardly had a citizen more public-spirited and concerned for the welfare of all classes. He was frequently interviewed by reporters, and called upon to open by prayer public gatherings. The Wayne County Pioneer Society honored him with its presidency, and for two years, 1877-8, he held the office of public librarian.

Full of years and honors, he showed that it is possible to keep sweet and grow old gracefully. He was a Christian gentleman to the last, and left a record worthy of emulation. He will ever be remembered as a man of exceptional strength of character, and as the Detroit Free Press styles him, "The man with the heart of a soldier, who hated cant and hypocrisy, who feared nothing in the line of duty, who could be as hard as flint in resenting wrong, and gentle as a woman in dealing with affliction, and dedicated all his powers and energies to the service of his Master. Even in the latter days of his infirmity his smile never lost its kindness or his militant spirit its readiness to condemn the wrong or approve the right. He led the life of a humble disciple, yet he was known and admired far beyond the realization of the average man."

One of his ministerial brethren, who had long known him, gave to the press the following high tribute: "In all the ranks of the Methodist ministry of the State, there have been few men who have so impressed their personality among their fellows. He was recognized as a Methodist of the old type, thoroughly orthodox, and thoroughly in earnest. He was a camp-meeting Methodist, believing with all his heart in revival work. His personal religious life and his fearless honesty won for him the confidence of all who knew him. As a Presiding Elder he was noted for his wise administration and executive ability, and for his farsightedness in seizing strategic points for advancing the line of work." It was while he was Presiding Elder on Detroit District, in 1863, and by his suggestion, that the valuable property where now stands the Central Methodist Episcopal Church, was secured.

At times during the last two years he was a sufferer from physical infirmities, but always patient and submissive to the Divine will. His final dissolution came, not so much from organic disease, as, in the course of nature, from the decay of old age,—more than fourscore and two years. In the silent watches of New-Year's night, with his faithfully attendant children at his bedside, without a struggle, with closed eyes, he fell peacefully asleep in Jesus.

In 1852, Manasseh Hickey was married at Ann Arbor to Miss Sarah Ann Bush, who died ten years ago. He leaves behind a son, Dr. Preston M. Hickey, and a daughter, Mrs. Minnie A. Brown.

"It is not in the ordinary sense a funeral that brings us here to-day; it is the coronation of a saint." Rev. Dr. George Elliott, standing in the pulpit of the Central Methodist Episcopal Church, pronounced these words as the opening sentence in the service which was to do last honor to the remains of Rev. Manasseh Hickey. There were in the assembly fully forty brother ministers of the deceased, many of whom had come from a considerable distance. On the platform at the funeral services were Rev. F. A. Blades, nearly eighty-two years old; Rev. S. P. Warner, nearly eighty-three; Rev. L. C. York, just past eighty-five; and Rev. S. Clements, three months past eighty-five.

After the funeral the remains were laid tenderly away in the family lot in beautiful Elmwood.

REV. HIRAM HOOD.

This venerable servant of Jesus Christ and of his Church on earth, was born in Benton, Seneca County, N. Y., August 9, 1818, and died at his home in Birmingham, May 17, 1903, aged eighty-five years. He was converted to Christ in the winter of 1833, and in June of the same year joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, in the fellowship and communion of which he lived seventy years. In 1844 he was received into the Genesee Conference on trial, and in 1848 was ordained an elder by Bishop Waugh. His appointments in the Genesee Conference were: Covington, 1844-5; Centerville, 1846-7; Java, 1848; Byron, 1849-50; Scotsville, 1851; Bolivar, 1852; and Southport, 1853-4.

In the fall of 1854 he was transferred to the Upper Iowa Conference, and stationed at Machias in 1855-6; Quasqueton, 1857-8; and Waterloo in 1859. He was then transferred to the Detroit Conference, where he was appointed as follows: Goodrich, 1859-60; South Flint, 1861-2; Birmingham, 1863-4; Armada, 1865-6; Clarkston, 1867; Highland, 1867; Rochester, 1869-70; Forester, 1871; Armada (a second term), 1872-4. He was superannuated in 1875.

Concerning the struggles and opportunities of his early life, he says: "My parents were not well-to-do in this world, and the schools seventy-five years ago were rather poor. I went to school three months in the year, and, having a great desire for knowledge, I used my spare hours in labor, so that at the age of eighteen I was qualified to teach in the district school, and at the age of twenty-one went to the Genesee Wesleyan Seminary, where I worked my way through by sawing wood and doing other labor in the winter; so that, by also working in the gardens in the spring, I was able to go through school without any embarrassments to myself or anybody else."

In regard to his religious life, he says: "I was called to the ministry before my conversion; for, whenever I planned the future or thought of the future, I was confronted with a vision of myself as a preacher of the gospel of Christ. The

At eighteen years he was appointed a class-leader, and so faithfully did he discharge his duties in the local Church that he was soon called into the public ministry, in which he spent the years of his active life.

In June, 1843, he married Miss Miranda Scott, with whom he lived in loving companionship for twenty-five years. Mrs. Hood died at Highland in 1868. To them were born three children, two of whom died in early childhood. One son grew to manhood, and died in Detroit about nine years ago.

His second marriage was to Mrs. Helen Comfort, who died October 6, 1891.

Since his superannuation, Father Hood has lived in Birmingham and vicinity, where he has enjoyed the confidence and friendship of the people. He was revered as a father in Israel. The people loved him because of his uprightness in life, his gentleness of spirit, and his business integrity. In his departure from us, this community loses one of its honored citizens and one of the purest-minded men that ever lived.

Last Spring Father Hood was stricken with paralysis, which, because of his extreme age, soon terminated his life. The end came Saturday, May 17th, when he passed peacefully to the privileges and experiences of the better life. His funeral services were held in the Methodist Episcopal church, Tuesday, May 20th, and were conducted by Rev. M. H. Bartram, assisted by Rev. W. H. Shier, Presiding Elder of the Detroit District, and Rev. J. E. Jacklin, editor of the Michigan Christian Advocate, six brother ministers from Detroit and vicinity, acting as pallbearers. After an impressive service, the body was laid in the family lot in Greenwood. Brother Hood lived a good life, he died a good death, and a glorious future is before him.

REV. ERASTUS KLUMPH.

Erastus Klumph was born in New York in 1815. His family moved to Michigan, and in 1855, at the age of forty, being a local deacon, he was admitted on trial in the Michigan Conference, and appointed to the Mason Circuit. At the division of the Michigan Conference in 1856, by his own request, he came into the Detroit Conference, and was appointed to Augusta Circuit.

In 1857 he was received into full connection, and appointed, as also in 1868, to Tuscola Circuit. In 1859 he was ordained elder, and appointed to Bay City; in 1860 and 1861, to Clifton; in 1862, to Eagle Harbor, in the Lake Superior District; in 1863, to Ridgeway; in 1864, to Watsonville and Vassar. At the Conference of 1865 he was placed on the superannuate list. In 1866 he was made effective and appointed to Columbia. In 1867 he was again placed on the superannuate list, but in 1868 was again made effective and appointed to Sebewaing; in 1869, to Caseville; in 1870, to Port Austin and Caseville, which was the last appointment he received in the Conference. In 1871, on account of failing health, he was again placed on the superannuate list, where his name remained in the full luster of a genuine Christian minister until it was transferred to the list of the crowned.

E. Parke Lyons was born in Davis, Macomb County, Mich., in 1877, and departed this life at Osterville, Mass., January 4, 1903. Brother Lyons sprang from a vigorous Christian ancestry, who, for three generations, have given efficient ministers and laymen to the work of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was converted to God at the age of twelve, under the ministry of Rev. Wm. J. Balmer, and at once began an active and useful Christian life. At the age of eighteen he graduated from the Pontiac High School, having already received a local preacher's license. At this time the bent of his mind and heart was disclosed to his pastor, Rev. Reuben Crosby, to whom he said: "If I understand God's call and know my heart, my life work is in the Christian ministry. If the Church accepts me, my program is to go to Albion College, and then to Boston Theological School; for the best equipment the schools can give me will be none too good. I will not, however, rest in these things, but earnestly seek the baptism with the Holy Spirit, and by this means reach my mental and spiritual best for God." This program of preparation was literally carried out. He went to Albion, finishing the last year of his literary course at Ann Arbor in the summer of 1900. This program of preparation was literally carried out. He went to Albion, finishing the last year of his literary course at Ann Arbor in the summer of 1900. While at Albion College, Presiding Elder Maveety gave him student supply work on Jackson Circuit.

In September, 1899, he was received on trial in the Detroit Conference and appointed to Salem, where his devotion and earnestness won him many warm friends. In 1901 he was transferred to the charge of West Falmouth, Mass., and began his theological studies at Boston. In his absence from the seat of Conference that year he was received into full connection, and elected to Deacon's Orders, being ordained a few weeks later by Bishop McCabe in the chapel of the Boston Theological School. His last student charge was at Osterville, about seventy miles from Boston, where, after three months' pastorate, "He was not, for God took him."

Seldom has the death of a young minister evoked such widespread disappointment and sorrow, for brother E. Parke Lyons was one of the brightest and most promising young preachers in our Church. He was not only an indefatigable student, but he was a splendid Christian character, possessed of manly physique, marked natural ability, fine mental quality, and genial social presence. A career of great usefulness was predicted for him, but just as that career seemed about to open, the end came. Two characteristics pervaded all others in his make-up, viz., earnestness and intensity; and perhaps to these may be traced his early demise. He labored perhaps too hard, frequently carrying extra studies in connection with preaching and pastoral duties. The Sunday before his decease he preached three times on the Osterville charge with unusual fervor. Monday following he felt unusually tired. Tuesday he sent a cheery letter home, telling of his intention to "double up" school work and get back to Michigan and into his life work as soon as possible. The next day he was seized with a severe pain in the chest. Pneumonia developed rapidly, which, in spite of every effort of physicians and friends, carried him off the following Sunday, January 4, 1903.

In 1899 he was married to Miss Janette M. Rosby, of Pontiac, Mich., who, with their little baby boy is left sadly afflicted, but wonderfully sustained of God.

As a member of Detroit Conference he was loved by his brethren, and in each of his pastorates he won the respect and esteem of his people.

At Osterville a simple and tender funeral service was conducted by Rev. B. A. Cramton and Charles Hickley. At Boston they were met by a company of students and the deceased's youngest brother, William Lyons, of Orion. At Detroit, Revs. Dr. Shier, J. E. Jacklin, Eugene Allen, A. F. Knoblock, and F. Miner met and helped the funeral party to their destination. The final service occurred at Davis on Saturday, January 10th. The ministers present and taking part were Revs. A. W. Wilson, W. B. Weaver, W. J. Balmer, A. F. Knoblock, F. Miner, and R. Crosby. The scene was deeply affecting. Carried by his old school-fellows, and surrounded by his wife, parents, brothers, relatives, and the friends of his lifetime, he was laid to rest near the spot where he first saw the light of day and the light of God.

REV. JOHN G. WHITCOMB.

Another hero has triumphed over death and been promoted to the ranks of the glorified. Rev. John Gass Whitcomb was born at Lexington, Green County, N. Y., April 5, 1824. When about thirteen years of age he came with his parents, Asahel and Lydia Gass Whitcomb, to this State. They settled on what is now called the old Whitcomb homestead, in the Gass Settlement, one mile north of Davis, in Macomb County. There it was that, at the age of fourteen, Brother Whitcomb was deeply convicted of sin and soundly converted to God. At the age of eighteen he began to exhort and to preach some, though not licensed until three years later.

In the fall of 1844 he returned to the State of New York where, in 1845, he was granted an exhorter's license by the

REV. JOHN G. WHITCOMB.

Rev. George Cook, pastor of Lexington Charge. In March, 1846, he received a local preacher's license, signed by S. Martindale, Presiding Elder, and F. Gould, pastor, and was stationed as supply on the Lexington and Windham Circuit.

On February 28, 1847, he was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth S. Sanford, daughter of Captain Minor Sanford. In April of 1851 he joined the New York Conference and was appointed to the Delaware Circuit, but in the autumn of this same year he returned to Michigan and settled near the old home, where he remained till the fall of 1852, when he joined the Michigan Conference (before the division). In 1853 he was ordained deacon, and in 1856 he graduated in the four years' course and received Elder's Orders. There were thirty-six in the class. His first charge in Michigan was Dryden, which he

In September, 1899, he was received on trial in the Detroit Conference and appointed to Salem, where his devotion and earnestness won him many warm friends. In 1901 he was transferred to the charge of West Falmouth, Mass., and began his theological studies at Boston. In his absence from the seat of Conference that year he was received into full connection, and elected to Deacon's Orders, being ordained a few weeks later by Bishop McCabe in the chapel of the Boston Theological School. His last student charge was at Osterville, about seventy miles from Boston, where, after three months' pastorate, "He was not, for God took him."

Seldom has the death of a young minister evoked such widespread disappointment and sorrow, for brother E. Parke Lyons was one of the brightest and most promising young preachers in our Church. He was not only an indefatigable student, but he was a splendid Christian character, possessed of manly physique, marked natural ability, fine mental quality, and genial social presence. A career of great usefulness was predicted for him, but just as that career seemed about to open, the end came. Two characteristics pervaded all others in his make-up, viz., earnestness and intensity; and perhaps to these may be traced his early demise. He labored perhaps too hard, frequently carrying extra studies in connection with preaching and pastoral duties. The Sunday before his decease he preached three times on the Osterville charge with unusual fervor. Monday following he felt unusually tired. Tuesday he sent a cheery letter home, telling of his intention to "double up" school work and get back to Michigan and into his life work as soon as possible. The next day he was seized with a severe pain in the chest. Pneumonia developed rapidly, which, in spite of every effort of physicians and friends, carried him off the following Sunday, January 4, 1903.

In 1899 he was married to Miss Janette M. Rosby, of Pontiac, Mich., who, with their little baby boy is left sadly afflicted, but wonderfully sustained of God.

As a member of Detroit Conference he was loved by his brethren, and in each of his pastorates he won the respect and esteem of his people.

At Osterville a simple and tender funeral service was conducted by Rev. B. A. Cramton and Charles Hickley. At Boston they were met by a company of students and the deceased's youngest brother, William Lyons, of Orion. At Detroit, Revs. Dr. Shier, J. E. Jacklin, Eugene Allen, A. F. Knoblock, and F. Miner met and helped the funeral party to their destination. The final service occurred at Davis on Saturday, January 10th. The ministers present and taking part were Revs. A. W. Wilson, W. B. Weaver, W. J. Balmer, A. F. Knoblock, F. Miner, and R. Crosby. The scene was deeply affecting. Carried by his old school-fellows, and surrounded by his wife, parents, brothers, relatives, and the friends of his lifetime, he was laid to rest near the spot where he first saw the light of day and the light of God.

REV. JOHN G. WHITCOMB.

Another hero has triumphed over death and been promoted to the ranks of the glorified. Rev. John Gass Whitcomb was born at Lexington, Green County, N. Y., April 5, 1824. When about thirteen years of age he came with his parents, Asahel and Lydia Gass Whitcomb, to this State. They settled on what is now called the old Whitcomb homestead, in the Gass Settlement, one mile north of Davis, in Macomb County. There it was that, at the age of fourteen, Brother Whitcomb was deeply convicted of sin and soundly converted to God. At the age of eighteen he began to exhort and to preach some, though not licensed until three years later.

In the fall of 1844 he returned to the State of New York where, in 1845, he was granted an exhorter's license by the served two years; then Columbus, two years; Orion, two years; Unadilla, one year; Morenci, two years; Ridgeway, one year; Milford, two years; Fenton, two years; Holly, two years; Lexington, three years; Petersburg, two years; Armada, two years; Vernon, three years; Flushing, two years; Harland, one year; Phoenix, one year; Orion, two years (second term); Metamora, three years; Downington, four years; Port Austin, two years; Carsonville, four years. At the close of his pastorate at Carsonville in 1898 he asked for and was granted a superannuate relation, after forty-five effective and useful years.

In Elizabeth S. Sanford Whitcomb our brother found a truly good helpmeet in his ministerial labors. Sore indeed was his affliction when, on June 19, 1886, she was suddenly separated from him by death at Metamora. To them were born four children, all of whom preceded the mother. He was married a second time, April 27, 1887, this time to Miss Mary Ann McFarland, of Lapeer County. October 23, 1889, he was again bereft of his companion. This time he was left with two little ones (twin boys), only a few months old. One, Ray, soon went to join the mother. Jay still lives to mourn the loss of an affectionate father. December 29, 1892, Brother Whitcomb married again, this time to Miss Hannah Thornton, of Downington, who has proven to be a most affectionate companion and helpmate in the closing years of his life work.

Brother Whitcomb had some very marked characteristics, for which he will be remembered as long as any of those who knew him well shall live. Exceedingly active, untiring in his efforts for the upbuilding of the kingdom, he preached the Word with great energy and effectiveness. He was indeed a preacher of the Word. There seemed to be no limit to his ability to quote Scripture. He was especially noted as a preacher of doctrines of experimental religion. Indeed, his greatest grief seemed to be that, as he saw it, many fail to preach those doctrines. His was a very sunny nature, always overflowing with joy. This made him not only a desirable associate for those of his own age, but even the children would leave their toys for a good time with him. And those young men of the ministry who had the privilege of associating with him say that they never found a more companionable friend.

We said that he was exceedingly active. This is seen by the fact that, during his pastorate at Carsonville, the last four years before superannuation, when more than "threescore years and ten," he preached four times on every alternate Sunday, and three times every other Sabbath. He was also very active in fixing up and repairing church and parsonage property. Few parsonages, if any, were ever vacated by him that were not in better condition than when he entered.

He was a great man for revival meetings, and many of his meetings were marked with very gracious outpourings of the Divine power in the salvation of souls. After superannuation he still continued to preach under the Presiding Elder until a year or so before his departure, which took place at his last earthly home at Downington, at about 2.45 A. M., September 9, 1903. A funeral service was held at Downington on Thursday, in charge of Presiding Elder Baldwin. Several brethren spoke in the highest terms of appreciation of his character and work.

The remains were brought to Davis, and on Saturday, September 12th, a service was held at which a number of the brethren spoke of their acquaintance with him, and we then laid the remains away beside those of the loved ones gone before.

He was married in 1846 to Miss Mary A. Turner, and in the same year with his young wife came to America, and located in Orleans County, N. Y., where they remained a few years, and then removed to Michigan, settling in Scioto, Shiawassee County. His avocation was that of a farmer.

made in that direction were the results of his own personal energy and ambition, in the face of many difficulties and discouragements which might have proven too much for a less courageous soul. His family were faithful to the Established Church, and though he was required to attend its services, he knew but little of the spirit and teaching of the Nonconformist bodies.

He was married in 1846 to Miss Mary A. Turner, and in the same year with his young wife came to America, and located in Orleans County, N. Y., where they remained a few years, and then removed to Michigan, settling in Scioto, Shiawassee County. His avocation was that of a farmer.

In the spring of 1857 a gracious revival of religion swept the community, and on April 5th, at a meeting held in a log schoolhouse, and conducted by Chas. Cross, a Methodist class-leader, he was gloriously converted to God. At once the impression was made upon his mind that he must preach the gospel, and in due time he was granted an exhorter's license. Then came the great War of the Rebellion, and Brother Balls answered the call of Father Abraham, by enlisting as a private in Company G, United States Cavalry. After nearly three years of service, he was severely wounded, and not recovering sufficiently to enable him to render further service, he was honorably discharged, and returned to his home and the avocation of the farm. But during the years of army service he had maintained his clear Christian experience, and now the old call to preach the glorious gospel of the Son of God was heard once more, and in the fall of 1866, at Hudson, with Bishop Ames presiding, he was received on trial in the Detroit Annual Conference, and appointed to Southfield. His appointments have been: Southfield, 1866; Williamston, 1867-68; Highland, 1869-70; Oak Grove, 1871-73; Parshallville, 1874; Highland, 1875; Davidson, 1876-7; Lakeport, 1878; Woodhull, 1879; Troy, 1880-82. Then, under failing health and feeling the need of a rest, he took a superannuated relation, and has remained an honored member of this honored rank for a score of years. During much of this time he had been able to preach, and for a number of years had charge of a Church.

He was a warm-hearted, active, and cheery man, and carried hope and enthusiasm wherever he went. During his pastorate at Williamston the frame of the first church building was raised. While on the Oak Grove Charge he led the people in building three churches, and at Parshallville he organized the charge. Frequent revivals accompanied his ministry, and wherever he went he was abundant in labors and successes. Since his superannuation he had lived a few years at Troy, and also at Pontiac. In the spring of 1898 he moved to Byron and identified himself with the work of the Church at that place. He was always ready to supply the pulpit when called upon to do so, or to do any other work that his hands found to do so far as his health and strength would permit.

Brother Balls was the father of three children—one daughter and two sons. The daughter preceded her father in her journey to the other world just one year, but the two sons, with their widowed mother, remain to mourn their loss.

His final illness lasted about two weeks, and was the culmination of a long-standing disease, which he contracted from the exposures of his army life. The friends who visited his sick room were impressed by the Christian fortitude with which he bore the intense suffering of those last days. The last question his pastor asked him was: "Brother Balls, is it well?" With lips scarce able longer to form the words, yet with face glowing with holy rapture, he answered: "O, yes, sir! yes, sir! praise God! praise God!"

He entered into rest on Monday, March 2, 1903. The following brethren, Brother J. B. Goss, Rev. S. Schofield, and Rev. R. Pattison, besides the writer, were present at the funeral, which was conducted by the pastor from the Byron Church, on Wednesday, March 4th. The remains were laid away in the Byron Cemetery.

MRS. DUKE WHITELY.

Mrs. Whitely, whose maiden name was Betty Stansfield, was born in Stainland, Yorkshire, England, February 28, 1822, and died at her home in Orion, Mich., June 15, 1903, in the eighty-second year of her age.

She was the eldest of a family of ten children, one only surviving her, a brother yet in England. She was converted when in her tenth year, and joined the Church originated by the Wesleys. In 1847 she was married to Rev. Duke Whitely, who had been a Methodist local preacher from his nineteenth year. A few weeks after their marriage they sailed for America. The work of the gospel ministry from the first engaged their attention. It was the Master's call. They gladly listened and obeyed. After three years' service as supply in the New Jersey Conference, Brother Whitely became a minister in the Methodist Protestant Church, having, in that connection, pastorates in various points in New York, and from 1863, in Michigan. In 1872 he was received as an elder into the Detroit Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. His subsequent appointments were: Owosso, Midland, Orion, Sharon, Addison, Tipton, Troy, and New Haven. The last pastorate closed in 1887, when failing health led to retirement from the active work of the ministry and the occupancy of the home near Orion, where Brother and Sister Whitely passed the remainder of their days, both as earnestly devoted to the interests of the Church as when in the pastorate. Sister Whitely stood loyally by the side of her husband during the forty years of his effective service, and to the close of life zealously did what she could in the cause she loved. She had a clear, religious experience. Her testimony was convincing. She was gifted in prayer. Never robust, often suffering much, she had a determined spirit, which compelled the frail body to do what often seemed impossible. For months she had been gradually failing in strength, but the inward life was renewed day by day. Her daughters at home devoted themselves day and night to her service. On Sunday she rallied, seemed brighter, even sang a verse of a hymn, the burden of which was "Hallelujah! praise the Lord!" At night, tender hands laid her down to rest, and a little past midnight hour, a Messenger came and whispered, "Come, for all things are now ready." The friends looked, and she was asleep.

She leaves four daughters—Mrs. T. D. Rich, Mrs. Lemuel Kelley, Miss Sarah and Miss Franc Whiteley.

The funeral was held in the church on Wednesday, under the direction of the pastor, assisted by Rev. S. Jennings, and Rev. W. H. Allman. The body was laid to rest by the side of Brother Whiteley's, in our Evergreen Cemetery.

F. BRADLEY.

MRS. S. J. POLLOCK.

Sarah E. Brunsdon was born at Londesboro, Ontario, February 3, 1863, and died at her home in Dryden, Mich., Thursday, April 16, 1903.

Earth has some storms so sudden and destructive as to appall the bravest and startle the most self-possessed. Such was the visitation of death which came to our parsonage home at Dryden, when Mrs. S. J. Pollock, wife of our pastor there, took leave of earth and went home to heaven. Approaching maternity, with indications of some disturbance in nature's usual course, caused anxiety, still the hope was cherished that all would be well as in the past, but when the crisis came her system proved unequal to the strain, and after six hours of illness, in which all that medical skill and tender affection could do was done, she quietly passed away. She was married to Samuel J. Pollock, February 2, 1886. Four children were born to them, two of whom remain to comfort the bereaved father, Milton, in his thirteenth year, and Pearl, aged six. Percy J. died some years ago, after a stay of only one year in this world. The last born, a beautiful babe, lay upon its mother's arm in the "narrow house," not having tasted earth's fleeting joys nor known its bitter sorrows. Sister Pollock was a good, in many respects a model, woman. Of Christian ancestry, she was a lifelong Methodist, and a faithful, earnest worker in the Master's cause. When called with her husband into the itinerant ministry, she went as at the command of God, and was ever an example of Christian purity and of affectionate interest in the people whom they served. Of domestic tastes, she reigned as queen in a well-kept home, in which her life was light and strength. Retiring and modest, she yet had great force of character, and her will never swerved from the straight line of fealty to God and truth. She well fulfilled St. Paul's description of a godly woman. She loved her husband, she loved her children, she was discreet, chaste, she kept her home, she loved her Lord, and rejoiced in his work. The funeral was held in the Methodist Episcopal church at Dryden, Monday afternoon, April 20th, and was attended by a large company of bereaved and sympathizing parishioners. The services were in charge of the Presiding Elder, Rev. C. W. Baldwin, and were also attended by eight pastors from neighboring charges. The bodies of mother and child were taken for burial to Rudyard, Mich., where Mrs. Pollock's relatives reside. Brother Pollock, although in great affliction, is well sustained by Divine grace, and will continue his work, looking to God for strength.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE.

We recommend that, in compliance with the provisions of the new Constitution of the Michigan Anti-saloon League, the Detroit Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church hereby designate two members of this Conference as members of the Board of Trustees of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League. Such designation shall not in any way obligate the Conference financially, nor in any way commit this Conference to any responsibility in the conduct of the League. (See Proceedings.)

AUDITING.

We, the Auditing Committee, having examined the vouchers concerning the missionary appropriations, and the Secretary's reports, find them correct.

JAMES CHAPMAN,
W. H. ALLMAN.

BIBLE, SUNDAY-SCHOOLS, AND TRACTS.

The mission of the American Bible Society is world-wide. Its silent but effective pioneer evangelism is penetrating to the furthest reaches of the earth. Through its agency the world's millions are reading of the wonders of grace in their own tongue. The Society publishes the Bible, in whole or in part, in over four hundred languages and dialects.

The Society, through the character of its work, commends itself to the Church as an indispensable factor in the great work of transforming the kingdoms of this world into the kingdom of our Lord and Master, Jesus Christ.

An income of at least $750,000 per year, including $250,000 from the Churches, supplemented by legacies and gifts from all friends of Christian progress, is essential to the largest usefulness of the Society. The contributions of our Conference are not in keeping with the importance of this great work. Our statistics this year will show that in one-third of our charges, the collection does not exceed one dollar, while in another third no collection is taken. Pastors are urged to write to Rev. John Pearson, D. D., Roanoke, Clifton, Cincinnati, Ohio, for free literature.

The Sunday-school occupies an unassailable position in the religious and educational life of our age. It teaches the Bible and brings the gospel to vast numbers in the receptive periods of childhood. The total Sunday-school population in the United States is more than 13,150,000, of whom there are in the Methodist Episcopal Church over 32,390 Sunday-schools, with 351,402 officers and teachers, and more than 2,758,429 scholars. The Sunday-school teacher in all instances should be a professed follower of Jesus Christ, with a living experience.

We believe the literature for the Sunday-school supplied by our Church to be second to none, and are confident that it will ever assist in building up an earnest religious character, loyal to our Church, among the young who attend our schools. We urge that our pastors and Presiding Elders everywhere see that our literature is used in the Sunday-schools.

The Home Department is a means of grace to many who, while willing to study the lesson, are unable to attend the sessions of the school. We urge that wherever practicable, this method be adopted. The Book Concern will be happy to furnish literature on the subject to all who apply.

The Sunday-school Union of our Church aids about 3,500 needy schools with literature every year. As its sole source of income for this service is dependent upon the offerings of the Churches, we recommend that the Sunday immediately preceding Christmas-day be set apart as Sunday-school Union Day in all our schools, and a Christmas contribution be made to the Sunday-school Union.

The Tract Society aids in the circulation of religious literature, particularly in the form of tracts and leaflets, throughout the entire world.

We recognize in the work of this Society a most helpful Home and Foreign Mission agency, and recommend that the pastors in our Conference avail themselves more generally of the liberal offer of the Tract Society to supply tracts free to the amount of one-half the last collection of his charge for the Tract Society. If a larger grant is needed, and the Church is not able to pay for the tracts, the Society will make a generous donation for distribution. Pastors are urged to send to the Book Concern for the catalogue of tracts, and to examine the abundant stock of tracts published under the auspices of our Church.

The Tract Society needs the sum of $50,000 per annum to effectively carry on its work in this and foreign lands, and we recommend that in all our Churches an effort be made to increase the offerings to this Society this coming year.

AMES MAYWOOD,
M. H. BARTRAM,

BOARD OF CHURCH EXTENSION.

The Board of Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church is making constant progress in its much-needed work. From 1866, when this work began, to November 1, 1902, this Board collected and disbursed $7,748,781, and by gifts and loans aided 12,356 Churches. Our Conference has shared in this work as follows:

Collections from the beginning to November 1, 1902, $45,137.47; to this we add this year, $2,065, making a total of $47,202.47. One hundred and sixty-eight Churches, within our bounds have received aid, up to November 1, 1902, by donations, of $35,390, and loans of $31,750, making a total of $67,140.

The part our Conference is to take in both giving and receiving is definitely fixed under provisions of Discipline by the General Committee from year to year. For the ensuing year our Conference is asked to raise by collections $6,000. Our needy Churches may, on approved applications, receive $3,000. The amount of aid granted depends upon the amount of collections taken, and can not exceed the proportion indicated. Our own interest demands the use of diligence to secure as large amounts as possible for this cause.

We consider ourselves fortunate to have had Assistant Secretary Robert Forbes with us on the anniversary exercises, and were greatly profited by his interesting address.

CHURCH FEDERATION.

Constitution.

ARTICLE I.—NAME.

This organization shall be called the Federation of Evangelical Churches of the State of Michigan.

ARTICLE II.

Section 1. The object of the Federation shall be the promotion of effective co-operation among the Churches and Christian workers of the State of Michigan, in order that their essential unity may be manifested; that the evangelization of every community may be more systematically accomplished; that a means may be found for expressing the united Christian sentiment of the State in regard to moral issues; that the various Christian and benevolent activities of the Commonwealth may be more completely co-ordinated, and that other appropriate ends may be secured.

Sec. 2. It shall also be its object to promote co-operation in the organization and maintenance of Churches in Michigan; to prevent waste of resources and effort in smaller towns; and to stimulate missionary work in the destitute regions.

ARTICLE III.—EXECUTIVE BOARDS.

The denominations uniting in the work of this Federation shall act through an Executive Board, which shall consist of two delegates from each affiliating denomination, who shall be elected annually by the respective State bodies or Conferences, provided that no denomination shall be represented by more than two delegates. Five members shall constitute a quorum.

ARTICLE IV.—ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Federation shall be held at such time and place in the month of February as the Executive Board shall determine.

ARTICLE V.—OFFICERS.

The Executive Board shall, at its annual meeting, elect a President, Vice-President, a Recording Secretary, and a Treasurer, each to serve one year, or until his successor is elected. The Executive Board may also appoint such other officers and Committees as it may deem needful for the work of the Federation.

ARTICLE VI.—DUTIES OF THE EXECUTIVE BOARD.

The Executive Board shall be authorized to make such rules and regulations as shall be necessary to make efficient the work of the Federation. It shall be the duty of the Executive Board to make annual report of the work to each affiliating body.

ARTICLE VII.—AMENDMENTS.

This Constitution may be altered or amended at any meeting of the Executive Board, provided that the Secretary shall have given written notice to each member of the Board at least thirty days previous to the meeting.

The Constitution was adopted as a whole.

It was voted to adopt the appended Statement of Principles, with especial reference to Article II, Section 2. Upon motion, it was voted that when we adjourn we adjourn subject to the call of the Chairman.

The Committee then stood adjourned.

Statement of Principles.

[With special reference to Article II, Section 2, of the Constitution.]

Recognizing the evident desire of the evangelical denominations of Michigan to do more efficient work for our common Lord, and believing that the Holy Spirit is moving Christians toward practical co-operation, we rejoice in the progress already made in this direction, and desire to affirm our conviction, as follows:

That Church extension in cities, larger towns, villages, and sparsely-settled communities should be conducted as far as practicable according to the following considerations:

1. No community in which any denomination has any legitimate claim should be entered by any other denomination through its official agencies without conference with the denomination, or denominations, having said claims.

2. A feeble Church should be revived, if possible, rather than a new one established, to become its rival.

3. The preferences of a community should always be regarded by denominational Committees, Missionary Committees, and individual workers.

4. Those denominations having Churches nearest at hand should, other things being equal, be recognized as in the most advantageous position to encourage and aid a new enterprise in their vicinity.

5. In case one denomination begins gospel work in a destitute community, it should be left to develop that work without other denominational interference.

6. Temporary suspension of Church work by any denomination occupying a field should not be deemed sufficient warrant in itself for entrance into that field by another denomination. Temporary suspension should be deemed temporary abandonment when a Church has had no preaching and held no meetings for an entire year or more.

7. All questions of interpretation of the foregoing statements and all cases of friction between denominations or Churches of different denominations should be referred to the Federation through its Executive Board.

CONFERENCE CLAIMANTS' DAY COMMITTEE.

Your Committee, to whom was referred the interests of Conference Claimants' Day, beg leave to make the following report:

We carried out the plans according to your instructions. It appears that the day was very generally observed with gratifying results. Notwithstanding the great pressure for the Albion College debt at the time Conference Claimants' Day was observed, the large increase of last year was not only maintained, but an actual increase of $500 over last year has been secured. Comparing the reports of this year with those of two years ago, when these plans were projected, an increase of more than fifty per cent is shown. This is indeed encouraging. Your Committee would recommend:

That we observe the last Sunday in October as Conference Claimants' Day.

That the expenses, as before, for envelopes, printing, mailing, etc., be paid from the funds collected.

That Dr. Jacklin be continued as Treasurer of such funds as pastors find it convenient to forward after the offerings are taken, furnishing suitable vouchers therefor.

That a Committee of three be appointed to carry out the plans for the observance of the day.

That we earnestly request our Presiding Elders and others of the Conference to prepare for the Michigan Christian Advocate earnest appeals to the Churches.

And that all the pastors and Churches be earnestly entreated to join in making the day a great success.

J. H. THOMAS,
N. NORTON CLARK,
O. W. WILLITTS,
C. L. ADAMS.

DEACONESS BOARD OF NINE.

All the Deaconesses, under the supervision of the Conference Board, are connected with the Detroit Deaconess Home, located at 53 Elizabeth Street, West.

This Home was incorporated under Act 310, Session Laws of 1887, approved June 28, 1887, by members of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Detroit Annual Conference, under the corporate title, "The Detroit Deaconess Home of the Methodist Episcopal Church."

Its Trustees are elected by a joint meeting of the Conference Board and representatives of the Woman's Home Missionary Society. The following have been elected Trustees for the ensuing Conference year:

Rev. J. A. Jacklin, John Sweet, S. W. Horner, George Elliott, Geo. O. Robinson, J. M. Stevens, E. Houser, Mrs. W. H. Brace, Mrs. H. Hitchcock, Mrs. G. H. Stalker, Mrs. J. S. Vernor, Mrs. J. B. Tietzort, Mrs. J. Starratt, Mrs. A. H. Piper, Mrs. A. B. Wasey Mason, Mrs. Geo. O. Robinson, J. L. Hudson, and Mrs. J. W. Price.

The value of the property occupied by the Home is $14,000, on which an insurance of $4,000 is carried. The indebtedness has been fully paid, and the property is without incumbrance. A new heating-plant is being installed at a cost of $350, which is entirely provided for.

The expenses of the Home for the fiscal year, ending July 31, 1903, were:

Micellaneous running expenses.....	$2,267 86
Deaconess allowance.....	848 00

The total cash received during the same period, less $21.27 overdraft, at last report was $3,006.63. The amount due the Treasurer is $89.96.

The principal source of income is collections taken in the Detroit Churches and by Auxiliary Home Missionary Societies, which amount to about $2,500.

THE DEACONESSSES.

There have been eleven inmates of the Home during the past year, as follows:

Licensed Deaconesses: Sara J. Gaunt, Superintendent; Kate A. Blackburn, Dorothy M. Leavitt, Eva Z. Hursh, Alice B. Shirey, Ethel McWethy. Associate Deaconess, Harriet E. Keller.

Emily A. Christie, a probationer of the Home, has left it to return to her work as a teacher.

Anna B. Atkins, on trial as a nurse, has left to take up private nursing.

One of our Deaconesses, Ethel McWethy, has left the Home to become the wife of a Methodist preacher in the Idaho Conference.

Your Board has received the required certificates from the Churches with which these Deaconesses are connected, and we ask that, with the exceptions noted, they be continued in their work.

Eva E. Hicks has been received by transfer from the Kansas City Home, and Dorothy M. Leavitt has been transferred to Columbus.

WORK OF DEACONESSSES.

Our Deaconesses have served in ten Churches and three missions.

Of especial note is the work done at the admirably appointed Tillman Avenue Mission, which has been opened free of debt. The following statistics are gleaned from the report of the Superintendent:

Hours spent in Kindergarten and Kitchen-garden	501
In Industrial Schools.....	386
In Nursing the sick.....	4,494
In special service.....	3,487
In Boys' Club	67
Number taught in Industrial School.....	2,148
Sick cared for in homes.....	61

This is but a small part of the work done by our Deaconesses. There is no religious institution of Detroit which can show so large an amount of useful service done at so small an aggregate cost.

To fill the places of those on the Conference Board whose term expires with this session, we recommend the election of the following:

G. O. Robinson, Mrs. G. H. Stalker, Mrs. W. B. Pope.
 GEORGE ELLIOTT, President.

EDUCATION.

The cause of Christian Education has received a great uplift. The Twentieth-century Thank-offering has benefited no interest so much as our schools and colleges. We rejoice that during this remarkable campaign for funds, our collections were not diminished, but were actually increased by upwards of $2,000 last year.

We most heartily commend the most excellent work for higher Christian education which is being accomplished for the Church through the Board of Education. We especially approve of the emphasis laid upon educational excellence and spirituality as the true ideal for our schools. We note with satisfaction the report of special gifts to the Board of Education, and unreservedly commend it to our people, particularly those who are able to make large gifts.

We urge that Children's-day be observed, and that a collection be taken in every charge according to the Discipline. It is not "Flag Sunday" nor "Flower Sunday," nor any festival of the sort. It is the day when the doors of the Christian college should be made to open wide for the Christian youth. Let it be so observed.

During the past year the Board aided students who gave their home residence or Church relationship as within the bounds of our Conference to the number of thirty-one, and to the amount of $1,822. The contributions of our Conference received by the Board for the year were $1,451.74. Our Minutes show a large number of charges not contributing to this fund.

We commend the officers of the Board for their energy in collecting loans, and we urge all beneficiaries within our own Conference to make as prompt payment as possible. We commend the "Christian Student" and the "Cokesbury Guild" to all our people.

Your visitors to the various schools and theological seminaries bring most encouraging reports. It was feared that the brilliant outlook for the professions and commercial pursuits would diminish the number of theological students, but instead they have been increased.

We do most heartily commend to the Conference, Garrett Biblical Institute, Drew Theological Seminary, and Boston University School of Theology.

Our visitors to Albion College, our own school, bring to us very flattering reports. The debt is paid. What a victory for President Dickie and connectional Methodism! We desire to give our hearty approval to the work of Dr. Wm. Dawe, the Field Secretary, who has faithfully pursued the hunt for funds to the last dollar. Now, with debt paid, with Faculty stronger than ever, there is every prospect of a large increase in attendance during the coming year.

We commend the Albion College Alumni and Michigan Epworth League for establishing the chair for the teaching of the English Bible.

W. J. Booth, Treasurer of the Twentieth-century Gift Fund for Wesleyan Guild, Ann Arbor, reports $321.69 received during the year for this purpose. We commend this cause to the attention of Michigan Methodism, and sincerely hope that it may receive prompt attention.

We make the following nominations:

As Trustees for Albion College for a term of three years: James C. McCaul, Hon. Aaron T. Bliss.

As Trustee, to fill vacancy, caused by the death of Horace Hitchcock: Albert Beebe.

As Advisory Board of Wesleyan Guild: George Elliott, S. W. Horner, Clarence E. Allen.

As Visitors to Albion College: Eugene Coffin, C. H. Perrin.

As Visitors to Garrett Biblical Institute: James L. Gardiner, Geo. E. Ackerman, D. D.

C. B. ALLEN, Chairman.
C. H. PERRIN,
JOHN M. SHANK,
C. W. BUTLER.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

We would express our gratitude for the successes of League work during the past year, and especially for the International Convention and its benefits to the Michigan Leaguers.

We agree and pledge our co-operation with the new Constitution and its department of world evangelism, the work of which we urge upon the local Leagues.

We desire to call attention of the pastors of the Conference to the slackness of local Secretaries in replying to correspondence from the general officers, and believe it their duty to see that these replies be made.

We commend the method employed at this session by means of which Epworth League reports were made in the pastor's report of charges, and trust that added attention may be thereby given to League interests.

We nominate for officers of the Conference League for next year:

President, Harvey G. Pearce; First Vice-President, C. H.

Perrin; Second Vice-President, Erwin King; Corresponding Secretary, Frederick Spence; Recording Secretary, Rufus W. Van Alstine; Treasurer, B. A. Cramton.

FREEDMEN'S AID AND SOUTHERN EDUCATION SOCIETY.

A clear-sighted Christianity and enlightened patriotism demand the conservation of the results of the great civil conflict of 1861 to 1865. The Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society was created especially for this work. It relates itself not only to the progress of our Church, but to the very life of the republic. It therefore demands our deep interest and an earnest presentation of its work and needs to the people of our Churches. After emancipation the Federal Government turned these wards of the nation over to the care of the impoverished and hostile South. The results might have been anticipated. To-day ten and one-half per cent of the white population and nearly fifty per cent of the colored people are illiterate. Our forty schools and colleges, with their five hundred teachers, have touched with enlightening and Christianizing influence about eleven thousand students this last year. Many conversions are reported.

We rejoice that during the quadrennium the contributions to this cause have made it possible to appropriate $105,000 more than at any corresponding period. At the same time there has been a decrease in administrative and fixed expenses of fully twenty-five per cent.

The decrease in the debt this year is over $22,000. The whole debt is $88,000, but over against this stands annuity funds of $64,000, which are gradually becoming available.

We call the attention of our pastors to the following facts:

1. A series of fresh and interesting tracts have been issued, which will be furnished free of charge to pastors applying for them.

2. To every one giving a dollar or more, the Christian Educator will be furnished free of charge. This magazine of facts is issued promptly, and will greatly help every pastor in the presentation of this cause.

3. The apportionment to our Conference for this Society is $5,200. We have raised this year $2,346, a decrease from last year of $141.

We recommend that the Sunday nearest Lincoln's birthday be observed in the interests of this work, and urge upon our pastors and people zeal and faithfulness to these great interests of our Church.

G. A. FEE.

INSURANCE.

Every Church and parsonage should be insured. Neglect to comply with the Discipline and common sense in this particular, brings discredit upon the Church and often serious financial loss to a faithful membership which the payment of a trifling amount each year to our Company would avoid.

The Secretary of the National Mutual Church Insurance

Company informs us that on the 1st day of August, 1903, the business had grown to over $20,000,000, and includes every State and Territory in the Union. All losses, aggregating nearly $90,000, have been paid without a day's delay in any case. That, although over $200,000 were left in the hands of the policy-holders until needed, which the old-line companies would have collected and put out at interest, dividends have been returned, averaging a larger per cent than have been realized by stock-holders in any of the old-line companies of the United States for the past twenty years.

The resources of the Company, amounting to $237,128, include the cash reserve, which, under the stringent laws of Illinois, must be the same as required of the old-line companies. The assets above the reserve required by law was $202,719. It will be seen that, while the terms upon which policies are written are much more favorable than that afforded by old-line companies, the first care of the management is to maintain such a sound financial condition as will command the confidence of the most conservative.

Under the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States it is entirely legal for our Churches in this State to insure with our Company.

For further particulars, write H. P. Magill, Secretary, 57 Washington Street, Chicago, Ill.

W. W. WASHBURN,

OPIUM.

WHEREAS, The Commission representing the Government of the United States in the Philippine Archipelago in seeking to adjust the question of the traffic in opium in those Isles, have suggested that, while forbidding the sale of this pernicious and destructive drug to the natives, its sale to the Chinese might be legalized; therefore,

Resolved, That this Conference does most respectfully but earnestly request that representatives of our Government in the Isles absolutely prohibit its sale to the Chinese and all other classes; for all are in dire need of protection from the debasing and destructive effects of the opium habit.

PERIODICALS.

We are justly proud of the development of our great publishing interests, and rejoice in the power and influence of the various Christian Advocates. Our editors stand in the front rank of those who are shaping the destiny of the Church and the nation, but among the great religious weekly papers, none are more potent for good than our own Michigan Christian Advocate, and we hope soon to see its circulation reach the long-desired 20,000.

We congratulate its publishers on the fact that the circulation has grown from 7,000 in 1883 when the Detroit Conference met in Court Street Church, Flint, to 18,000 in 1903.

The Methodist Review holds an important place among our publications, and the members of the Conference would do well to avail themselves of its inspiration.

The Epworth Herald stands unrivaled, and should be in the hands of every pastor and every Epworth Leaguer.

Our Sunday-school papers and lesson helps are regarded as superior to all others, and are used by many schools of other denominations, and, of course, should be found in every Methodist Sunday-school. These publications can be procured in any quantity at the Detroit Depository of the Book Concern, where every courtesy will be shown to visitors.

Your Committee were glad to receive the official report of the Book Committee, which has been sent out to the Church, showing great prosperity and success in the management of the affairs of our great publishing-houses, East and West.

GEORGE DURR,
M. H. McMAHON.

RESOLUTIONS.

As this forty-eighth session of the Detroit Annual Conference draws to a close, we record our gratitude to God for his presence with us during these past days, and for the multiplied favors from on high which have made our coming together a blessing and a delight.

We have listened with pleasure and profit to the sermon and addresses from our General Superintendent, Bishop John M. Walden, and we recognize the painstaking spirit in which he has conducted the work of the Conference.

We return hearty thanks to all who have helped so royally to entertain us:

To our genial Host in Chief Rev. George W. Grimes, D. D., for the ample provision which he has made for our comfort, and for the many gracious courtesies which he has extended to us;

To the Presiding Elder of the District, Rev. Edward B. Bancroft, D. D., and to Rev. G. H. Whitney, pastor of the Garland Street Church, for their ever-ready assistance;

To the noble laymen of Flint, than whom there are none better in Methodism, for their unstinted hospitality. Never have we been made to feel more truly at home than during our stay in this beautiful city;

To the pastors of the sister denominations whose fraternal kindness in placing their churches at our disposal and opening their pulpits to our preachers, we deeply appreciate.

We thank the press of the city for their full and intelligent reports of our proceedings; and the Union Trust and Savings Bank for their courteous and gratuitous service.

We take our departure from Flint with genuine regret, and it is our earnest prayer that God's richest blessings may be granted unto the people of this city.

ROBERT N. MULHOLLAND,
CHARLES T. ALLEN.

SANCTITY OF THE SABBATH.

We recognize the Sabbath as God's wise plan for conserving the highest physical, social, and moral welfare of humanity. Its desecration is civil and spiritual suicide. The more prominent present perils to the Sabbath are the Sunday saloons, excursions, games, and plays. Our imperative duty is to make equally pronounced efforts both to instruct and inspire our people to keep holy the Sabbath-day, and to secure the enforcement of our State Sunday laws by the proper officials.

We recommend the organization of a Michigan State Sabbath Association for a united interdenominational and State-wide effort to advance the cause of Sabbath sanctity. And we recommend the appointment of a Committee of five to represent the Detroit Annual Conference to join with any similar Committees which may be appointed by other Michigan ecclesiastical bodies for this purpose. And through our Committee we earnestly invite all Michigan denominations to appoint a similar Committee for this purpose. We nominate as our Committee, John Sweet, George Elliott, J. P. Varner, Isaac E. Springer, and J. M. Gordon.

ISAAC E. SPRINGER, Chairman.

TEMPERANCE.

We believe that the licensed liquor traffic is to-day the strongest existing foe of the Church of God, and with its associated evils it is the greatest obstacle to the extension of the kingdom of Christ.

We believe that it is wholly within the power of the allied Church of God to remove this curse from our country and secure the protection of the American home which seems to have been, in too many cases, the last object of legislation rather than the first.

We believe that the liquor traffic never sleeps, never ceases to promote its own interests by all the most despicable methods possible, and that never will this enemy of defenseless women and helpless children say it has victims enough.

We fear that at the ensuing session of our national Congress an attempt will be made to repeal, some at least, of the temperance legislation enacted during the past few years, particularly the law prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors at the post exchanges, thereby giving to our soldiers additional opportunities for drunkenness and debauchery.

We deeply regret the existing indifference in the Christian Church upon this great moral question. The continuation of the saloon is an issue involving the loss of immortal souls for time and eternity. It is a lamentable fact that the saloon is legalized, and therefore entitled to the protection of the law; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the time is come for the Church universal to express its uncompromising hostility to the liquor traffic, not only by prayers and resolutions, but also by its ballots.

Resolved, That we protest against the repeal of any temperance laws that have been enacted in either our State or national legislatures.

Resolved, That we express our deepest regret at the tardiness of the Secretary of War in disbursing the moneys appropriated by Congress for the benefit of our soldiers at the various army-posts; moneys intended to provide some comfort and recreation for them in lieu of the canteen.

WM. B. COOMBE,
J. P. VARNER.

WOMAN'S FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

WHEREAS, We regard the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society as a valuable associate worker in the foreign field with the parent Missionary Society; and,

WHEREAS, By its enthusiasm, persistency, prayers, and two cents per week, sets an example worthy of imitation by the whole Church; therefore, be it

Resolved, By this Conference, that we will sympathize with the Society in its particular work, encouraging it with our prayers, and aiding it in every laudable way to maintain its present position and prosecute its work in these fields, white to the harvest.

J. HORTON, Chairman.

DETROIT CORPORATE CONFERENCE.

DEAR BRETHREN:—During the past year no occasion has occurred to require a special meeting of the Board of Trustees. The annual meeting was held in Detroit, September 8, 1903.

The Treasurer, John McEldowney, submitted his annual statement and report which, together with vouchers and securities, were referred to the Auditing Committee, who examined and reported them correct.

The report shows the entire amount now in the hands of the Conference to be $17,287.60. From this deduct $500, the special Lowe Fund; and $510, the special Osborn Fund; and the year's interest on both, and the remainder shows the amount of the Winters Fund proper to date, in principal and interest, to be $16,236.80. It was voted that $800 from the interest account be turned over to the Superannuated Preachers' Aid Society to be disbursed according to their rules; also that $20 interest of the Lowe Fund be paid to the Conference Stewards; and $20.40, interest from the Osborn Fund, be paid to the Board of Church Extension.

Your Board has a feeling of gratitude to God that thus far in the history of this body no shade of suspicion has ever arisen concerning the faithful and honest manner in which its funds have been administered. Neither have we any such fears as to the future. And yet we feel that a trust so sacred as is that committed to us should be surrounded by all the safeguards which human legislation affords. Therefore the Board unanimously voted to have bonds executed by our Treasurer, whoever he may be, in an amount not less than $3,000, nor more than $5,000.

The term of office as Trustee of S. Clement, S. Reed, and J. E. Jacklin expires the present year, and the Board respectfully nominated the same for election.

Respectfully submitted,

S. REED, Secretary.

The report of the Trustees was accepted, the drafts named were ordered, and the Secretary was directed to cast the ballot of the Conference for the three named for Trustees, which was done, and they were declared elected.

Conference adjourned.

S. REED, Secretary.

9. The papers shall not be signed, but the name of the candidate shall be written on a separate sheet and attached to or inclosed with each of his papers.
10. The Registrar shall forward the papers to the proper Examiner, accompanied by a number corresponding to the number of the candidate's name on his roll.
11. At the several examinations the subjects will be taken up in the order in which they appear in this schedule. After the class has written upon a set of questions, no absentee shall be permitted to write upon the same set without consent of the Board; or of the conducting Examiner.

12. A properly authenticated certificate showing that a candidate has already pursued and passed a satisfactory examination in a prescribed study, as a regular attendant on the classroom instruction, in an accepted literary or theological institution of the Methodist Episcopal Church, shall be received in lieu of Conference examination, except on Doctrine and Discipline. Such certificates may also be accepted on books comprehended under the subjects of Doctrine and Discipline; provided, that each candidate shall be examined as to his personal attitude to the doctrines and Discipline of the Church.

13. Examinations shall, as far as possible, be in writing; they shall be graded upon the scale of 100, and the candidate must attain a standing of 70 in order to pass.

14. Examiners shall give such instruction and guidance in studies as possible by correspondence.

15. After an Examiner has marked and delivered a paper to the Registrar, he has no authority to change the marking without the consent of the Board.

16. The midyear examinations will be held on the first Tuesday in June, at 9 A. M., at places and under supervision of Examiners as follows: Hudson, E. M. Moore; Detroit, Haven Church, D. H. Glass; Owosso, First Church, A. Roedel; West Bay City, First Church, W. B. Pope; West Branch, Paul Desjardins; Port Huron, First Church, Eugene Allen; Bad Axe, C. H. Perrin; Sault Ste. Marie, M. C. Hawks; Manistique, L. N. Moon; Negaunee, S. M. Gilchriese; Houghton, A. Ames Maywood; Iron Mountain, Central, Isaac Wilcox; Ironwood, M. J. Seelye.

The examiners on any district may, by application to the Chairman, secure a change of the place or places of examinations, from the above plan, if upon consultation with the Presiding Elder it shall be deemed advisable.

Note 1. To obtain credits here, certificates of work done in our schools should show the amount of time given to the subject, text-books used, and the year in which the work was done.

2. By order of the Conference each candidate is required to pay annually, at his first examination, a fee of one dollar.

3. According to the ruling of the Bishops no person can be received on trial, nor elected to Deacon's or Elder's orders while "conditioned" in any study.

4. The Conference has requested the Presiding Elders to present the names as candidates for admission on trial in the Conference, of such persons only as have attained the equivalent of a twelve-grade high school education, and are under thirty years of age. But time previously spent either in supply work or in one of our schools in preparation for the ministry, shall be allowed in credit.
